SCHOOL'S OUT..EVENTUALLY

New term on hold as 80 firefighters battle large blaze at Roding Primary

by Lewis Berrill

barking@yellowad.co.uk

A FIRE broke out at a Dagenham school on Tuesday and caused "significant damage".

London Fire Brigade was called to Roding Primary School, Hewett Road, at 4.50am; 12 fire engines and 80 firefighters attended the blaze.

The fire was reported under control at 7.49am. Crews remained on the scene for the rest of the day, extinguishing smaller pockets of fire.

The front of the school displayed few signs of damage, but behind one part of the building it had been reduced to a fire-gutted wreck. It could have been saved if sprinklers had been fitted, the fire service said.

Deputy assistant commissioner, Lee Drawbridge, said: "There could be no clearer example of why sprinklers in schools are so important as they could have significantly reduced the damage and impact of this fire."

"Crews were faced with a serious blaze when they arrived at the school and worked very hard to bring it under control but given the intensity of the fire, there is unfortunately significant damage to the school."

At the height of the blaze, firefighters could be seen emerging from the building with blackened faces.

Station manager Rod Wainwright, who was at the scene, said: "Flames could be seen from some distance away and crews were faced with a serious blaze when they arrived on the scene."

Nearby, parents gathered with children in school uniform as they waited to enter Saint Teresa Catholic Primary School, on the neighbouring road, which was also closed for the day.

One pupil from Roding Primary School said she thought she was dreaming when she saw the news.

Aisha Ferreira had been due to return for a new term on Wednesday.

Speaking as she went to visit the scene with her mother Laura, the nine-year-old said: "I was like how? It could only be a dream."

"I was thinking about it and it was actually on fire - I was scared and shocked."

Mother Laura added: "A lot of parents as well as the kids are excited to start the new term and get into a routine and this has thrown it all into upheaval."

"Aisha was so excited to go back but she never would have thought the reasons she wouldn't be able to go back was because of a fire."

She said friends with children at the school had expressed worry about childcare arrangements due to the extra time off.

Mr Drawbridge added: "London's firefighters are called to more than 80 fires in schools every year and in most cases sprinklers are not fitted - meaning millions of pounds are wasted repairing fire and water damage."

The cause is under investigation.

Petition demands end to bridge traffic chaos

by Piers Meyler

Local democracy reporter

A PETITION has been launched demanding a plan be put in place to minimise disruption caused whenever the Dartford Crossing is closed.

Thousands of people were caught in horrendous logjams – with about 200 able to rest at Ikea – after an overturned lorry blocked the Dartford Crossing for hours on August 28.

One of the lorries toppled over an embankment, hanging precariously over a slip road near the QEII bridge.

Motorists on the M25 and on both sides of the crossing approach were left stuck in their cars for more than seven hours before lanes were re-opened.

Parts of the stretch had to be re-surfaced due to a reported diesel spillage.

Those who were left waiting near Thurrock's Ikea store were forced to stop off there, with some relaxing in the ready made beds on display.

The crossing, which handles more than 150,000 crossings a day, has seen several incidents recently, leaving motorists stranded in long tailbacks.

In March this year a crash between three lorries closed the M25 in Kent near junction 1a for nine hours, leading to queues of around eight miles into Essex.

In November 2017 a crash on the M25, which completely shut the QEII Bridge caused traffic chaos.

The petition is now asking for agencies involved in dealing with the aftermath of serious incidents on the M25 at the Thames crossing to prepare better.

CROSSING: The QEII bridge

The petition asks Thurrock Council, Highways England and Essex Police to “stop Thurrock gridlock during QE2 bridge closures” and to “come up with a plan to avoid future disruption caused by closure of the bridge, both on the M25 and local surrounding roads (Thurrock/Lakeside/Grays/Purfleet) while we are waiting for the construction and opening of the new Lower Thames Crossing which will take at least ten years to be in operation, and improve the speed at which accidents are dealt with and clean up operations are put in place.”

It adds on August 28 “The QEII

Bridge was closed from 2.20pm and not fully re-opened until 6am the following morning.

“During this time, local people and people from further afield were held up in hours of delays with completely gridlocked traffic.

“This is becoming more frequent as the area gets busier and more development takes place. There must be plans in place to stop total and utter gridlock to our area.

“This not only disrupts local residents, it is detrimental to all the business who operate out of this area.

“So many hours are lost due to sitting in unnecessary traffic jams. Something must be done.”

Landlord's £10k smoke alarm fine

A LETTING agency was fined £10,000 with £750 costs for failing to fit smoke alarms at a rented property in one of the first cases of prosecution under new legislation.

Just Move Estates (JME), Hoe Street, Walthamstow was fined after council officers found no smoke alarms at one its rented properties in Melford Road, Leyton.

The agent initially claimed tenants removed them but inspectors found no evidence they had ever been installed, a council spokesperson said.

JME had previously stated there were three alarms at the house in their application to register the property under Waltham Forest Council's licensing scheme.

Cllr Louise Mitchell, cabinet member for housing, said: “Smoke alarms save lives day in, day out.

“Quite apart from the fact that it is a legal requirement for landlords to ensure they are present, they are inexpensive and easy to fit.”

London Fire Brigade deputy assistant commissioner Al Perez said: “We welcome this result for Waltham Forest, which is one of the first councils in London to prosecute for failing to fit smoke alarms in a rented property under the Housing and Planning Act (2016) and we hope this will act as a wake-up call to all landlords that under this legislation it is your responsibility to install measures to keep residents safe from fire.”

DAY TRIPPERS: Excited residents prepare to board their charter train

Rain fails to spoil trip to seaside

RESIDENTS enjoyed a day at the seaside despite the pouring rain.

More than 200 residents braved the weather for the 10th annual free trip for borough residents on Sunday, August 26.

The trip, organised by the Reede Road Tenants and Residents' Association, offered travellers a free return ticket to Southend on a specially chartered train from either Barking station or Dagenham Dock.

Cllr Darren Rodwell, leader of Barking and Dagenham Council, who joined residents on the journey, said: "It was fantastic to see people from across the borough coming together to enjoy a traditional east London trip to the seaside."

"I'm delighted that our residents were able to take advantage of this offer, and I would like to thank c2c for their generosity in providing transportation for everyone."

Residents' calls see new orders to tackle street jobs

BARKING and Dagenham Council is set to tackle antisocial behaviour after 97 per cent of surveyed residents called for the introduction of new powers.

A Public Space Protection Order (PSPO) has been put into place in the Dagenham Heathway area, as of Monday, September 3.

The order covers the areas around Dagenham Heathway station, Heathway shopping centre, extending down to the junction of Ripple Road and

New Road, and as far as Old Dagenham Park.

The PSPO prohibits anyone from causing antisocial behaviour such as spitting, harassment, drinking alcohol in the street or begging.

Offenders caught breaking the rules can be issued with a £100 fixed penalty notice but could face a maximum fine of up to £1,000.

Cllr Margaret Mullane, cabinet member for enforcement and community safety, said: "We know this isn't going to be an instant fix and we know there will be more work to do in solving the problems in the area, but this is another important tool in tackling antisocial behaviour and improving enforcement in our borough."

The PSPO will last for three years.

The council has already introduced similar powers around Broad Street, Choats Road, and Barking town centre in a bid to curb antisocial behaviour.

Education

Forest School, Snaresbrook

Seat of learning since 1834

FOREST School is an independent day school for pupils aged four to 18, educating more pupils than ever on the same site in Snaresbrook where it started out in 1834.

Forest benefits from a tremendous location on the very edge of north-east London – a city school with 30 acres of grounds surrounded by forest, creating a wonderfully diverse community for our pupils that we are very proud of.

Forest School encourages outstanding academic progress and personal development offering an all-round education for all pupils, which consists of excellent academic teaching and learning, and extensive opportunities outside the classroom encompassing everything from sport, music, art and drama to our huge range of co-curricular clubs and activities.

Our boys and girls (more than 1,300 in equal proportion) are taught in single-sex classes from the ages of seven to 16 and in a co-educational environment in the Pre-Preparatory School and Sixth Form. We believe this combination of single-sex and mixed educational opportunities – the diamond structure – gives our pupils the best of all worlds.

Forest is London's only diamond structure school and it means we can take advantage of the many positive characteristics of a small school whilst benefiting from the infrastructure and feel of a much larger school, catering to the specific needs of boys and girls.

Pupils at Forest are split into 14 single-sex houses and these houses provide a supportive environment which pupils love, developing bonds with their peers and teachers alike, and cultivating a sense of pride, loyalty and belonging.

Forest is a school that balances real academic progress with exceptional personal development that is evident in the men and women walking out of the white gates aged 18.

Forest – where people grow.

You will find details of future opportunities to visit Forest on our website.
